For Distribution by RBDI and Dr Jamall

We retained Risk-Based Decisions, Inc. (RBDI) to provide strategic consultation in the sale of a contaminated former ink manufacturing facility. RBDI, and Dr. Jamall in particular, were very helpful in assessing the impacts of the contamination and in translating the residual environmental contamination into dollar terms so as to facilitate the sale of the property. Dr. Jamall's insights on how to address the concerns of the regulatory agencies were also very valuable in obtaining a No Further Action letter. We have no hesitation in recommending RBDI for their competence, excellent communication skills and ability to navigate complex scientific and technical issues with ease.
